

Modular Names New Vice President, Business Development

Tucson, Arizona – May 12, 2009

Modular Mining Systems, Inc., the market leader in powerful information management solutions for mining operations worldwide, announces the appointment of Anthony Cook to the position of Vice President, Business Development. The Business Development division focuses on meeting customer needs in emerging markets, developing partnerships with providers of “best of breed” technologies, and aligning Modular business plans with those of Komatsu Autonomous Haulage Systems (AHS). Cook’s previous assignment was General Manager, Modular North America.

“Anthony will be combining his mining engineering background and commercial experience to deliver innovative growth strategies for our global business,” says Peter Carter, CEO. “His experience will be a huge asset as he develops growth strategies for emerging markets through third-party products, as well as providing operational support for the Komatsu AHS business division.”
